

BP's electrifying deal for EVs in China

China - world's largest and fastest-developing EV market

China forecast to lead the transition to EVs

DiDi - world's leading mobility platform

DiDi offers users a full range of app-based options, including ride-hailing, automobile solutions sharing, and other services.

The platform already has 550m users and 600,000 EVs running on its platform

The new JV formed by BP and DiDi

BP opened a pilot site in May 2019 in collaboration with DiDi. It's already powering motorists on their way in Guangzhou, in the south of China.

“As the world's largest EV market, China offers extraordinary opportunities to develop innovative new businesses at scale and we see this as the perfect partnership for such a fast-evolving environment.”

Tufan Erginbilgic, BP's Downstream chief executive
