PRESS RELEASE

bp Oil Hellenic appoints new head of country

Marianthi Stavrinou has been appointed as head of country, Castrol Hellas M.A.E and bp Oil Hellenic SA effective 1 July 2022. Marianthi is based in Athens and will assume her head of country responsibilities in addition to her existing role of marine sales manager, Europe, Americas & Middle East.

Marianthi has been with bp for 18 years and worked in a number of international sales and business development roles in our lubricants' business.

Marianthi said: "I'm excited to represent bp's businesses in Greece and create awareness and further development around bp's net zero ambitions and sustainability agenda."

Marianthi is taking over as head of country from Thanasis Rigas, who is leaving bp.

Note to editors

bp has been an active supporter of the Greek economy since 1951 and nowadays is one of the leading companies in the market.

bp Oil Hellenic markets a full range of automotive and industrial lubricants through Castrol and bp brands in Greece and other Balkan countries. Marine Lubricants supplies customers with products in 12 ports around Greece, while Air bp sells aviation fuels at 22 international and general aviation airports throughout the country.

Our lubricant sales have a leading position in Greece in both automotive and industrial markets. Our OEM partnerships provide customers with high-performance lubricants superbrands that ensure cost efficiencies. Castrol has valuable partnerships with Aston Martin, Ford, Seat, Skoda, VW-Audi, Husqvarna, Jaguar, Komatsu, Land Rover, MAN, Triumph and Volvo.

bp has also licensed the use of its brand on retail sites to Hellenic Petroleum, under a brand-licensing agreement. The partnership has been progressed even further with the sales of automotive bp and Castrol lubricants in more than 2,000 petrol service stations across the country.

bp is committed to maximizing value for customers through a mutually beneficial relationship, founded on world-class products and services.

All our activities are certified by ISO 9001/2008, ISO 14001/2004 and OHSAS 18001/2007.
