Social development

To protect the fragile environment around the Langue de Barbarie in Saint Louis 10 ha of land has been reforested with filao and mangrove plants – a total of 9,000 filao + 10,000 mangroves planted

Support for the conservation and rehabilitation of the Djoudj Bird Park in Saint Louis, including:
- 50 ecoguards from local communities trained in bird monitoring, participatory surveillance and project management – reinforced with the donation of new equipment (bird guides, binoculars, telescopes and other materials)
- 2 rice-hulling machines donated to local volunteers that work with the park
- 16 ha of degraded natural habitat was restored and rehabilitated

800+ community members participated in community clean-up days to reduce waste on the Langue de Barbarie which resulted in 46.33 tonnes of waste collected and 286 clean up tools distributed (incl. forks, shovels and wheelbarrows)

Investment to promote fishing livelihoods has resulted in 410 blocks sunk, to make up an artificial reef, in the marine protected area of Saint Louis

800+ women fish processors will benefit from 2 biogas facilities – providing an alternative, cleaner and more environmentally sustainable form of fuel for the drying and processing of fish

3,000 community members involved in awareness-raising campaigns on waste and environmental issues along the Langue de Barbarie

Capability building

Civil society leaders trained on resource governance at the Natural Resource Governance Institute summer school in Cameroon with our support

70 people from government and civil society attended workshops on natural resource governance, organized by the University of Oxford’s prestigious OxCarre Centre

250+ journalist, blogger journalist, blogger and local government officials from St Louis and Dakar trained in oil and gas basics to strengthen understanding and encourage transparency

BP facilitated a ‘LNG 101’ workshop in Dakar to build civil society understanding of the technical and commercial aspects of LNG projects

BP is supporting the Government of Senegal in their development of a National Institute of Oil and Gas (INPG) designed to help build national capability for the emerging oil and gas sector

BP is a partner of the Chevening programme which provides scholarships for students to study in the UK

BP is sponsoring Senegal’s National Paralympic Team as a top-level partner, through to the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games

Supply chain

46 local companies contracted by BP

3.5bn FCFA ($5.5m) estimated total third-party spend with local companies in 2018

67 Senegalese nationals employed by BP as staff or third-party contractors
Senegal

At BP we build relationships that last generations…

BP and our partners will make significant investment to bring the Tortue project on-stream. It contains an estimated 15 Tcf of gas – which has the potential to turn the Greater Tortue area into a world-class oil and gas basin. Over the next three decades, we hope to see Mauritania and Senegal become global LNG players, creating prosperity and development at a local and national level.

The Tortue floating liquefied natural gas project will generate substantial revenues for Mauritania and Senegal over its lifetime as well as enabling domestic gas to be supplied to Mauritania and Senegal. It will also bring jobs that will be required to support a growing oil and gas industry.

Local content is a balance between three areas: people and skills; local supply chain; and social development. With long-term focus on capability development in all areas, the activities that can be done locally will increase over time. BP is active in all areas in parallel. Senegal has a diversified economy and national development plan (PSE). Protecting and building on these advantages can help achieve Emerged Economy status by 2035, with oil and gas playing a part.

BP is honoured to be able to play a role in helping Senegal achieve a bright energy future.

New initiatives for 2018

Through selected partners BP plans to launch several social investment and local content initiatives from September 2018

Community Health
- Provision of an ambulance in Langue de Barbarie
- Equipment donation to the health posts in Langue de Barbarie
- Promotion of access to the universal governmental health coverage programme in Langue de Barbarie
- Training of health-care providers (nurses and midwives) and community members in the Saint Louis District
- Preventive activities at community level focused on maternal and child health, hygiene and sanitation

Environment & Economic Development
- Training of entrepreneurs in business, marketing and organisational management
- Capacity building activities for ecological and environmental management
- Support for setting up fruit and vegetable processing units
- Environmental education in schools
- Training of women processors to comply with ECOWAS standards to help boost product sales

Livelihoods & Economic Development
- Donation of equipment for monitoring fishing activities and enhancing marine safety
- Activities to strengthen fishing and marine institutional capacity
- Study visit for CLPA members to enhance the management of fishery resources
- Capacity development activities and equipment supplied to women cooperatives for fish processing
- Access to finance for women cooperatives and artisanal fishermen

Invest in Africa
- BP is one of the founding partners in the NGO Invest in Africa’s programme to support local content in Senegal
- The initiative will launch a database of SMEs and a capacity-building programme to help local companies to be more competitive in bidding for contracts in the oil and gas industry and beyond