

bp invoicing requirements for suppliers

October 2022

The following guidelines will help to ensure that invoices are paid in accordance with negotiated terms. Suppliers supporting bp legal entities are reminded not to supply goods and/or services to bp without first receiving a valid bp purchase order or NonPO reference (bp representative email address).

When to submit invoices:

Invoices must only be submitted to bp after the supply of goods or commencement of work - please only issue your invoices to bp after full delivery (or transfer of title). bp can only process your invoices after (1) full delivery is rendered and (2) sufficient proof of delivery is received. Where services are provided over multiple months, invoice no more than once per month or when the work is complete, whichever is earlier or per the terms of the contract. Any contractual time limits for settling invoices shall only commence when the aforementioned conditions have been satisfactorily met.

What to submit on invoices:

What to submit on Credit Notes:

- Credit Notes are to be submitted to each legal entity separately, with reference to the following for each line item:

- Suppliers are encouraged to:
 - Include the name of the bp representative with whom the credit has been agreed
 - Reference the date upon which the credit was agreed
 - Submit the credit to bp within 14 days of agreement
- If the credit note applies to multiple documents (POs or Invoices), include the name of the bp business contact, and supporting documentation in sufficient detail for bp to understand to what activity the credit note applies including references to the original POs, invoices and cost objects by line item.

Supporting Documentation:

1. Supporting documentation must provide sufficient evidence for the designated bp representative to validate that the referenced services have been received as invoiced and provide a proper audit trail.
2. Optimally, the supporting documentation should be signed by the bp employee who received the service at the time it was performed, and who can best validate that it was performed.
3. Where required to confirm service receipt, 'signatures' on supporting documentation include legible hand-written signatures and electronically verified signature stamps (i.e. DocuSign).

How to submit invoices:

All invoices should be submitted as noted in the 'send invoice to' details on the bp purchase order, electronically via the bp marketplace (SAP Business Network – formerly known as the Ariba Network) or in the case of NonPO invoices, to the country specific email address (not an individual person) provided to you by your bp representative.

If you are emailing an invoice to bp, only use an email address if it is included in the 'send invoice to' details on the bp Purchase Order. Do not send invoices to any other email address including your bp representative.

1. Each email attachment will be processed as an individual invoice and each attachment must:
 - Not be encrypted and include a single invoice and all supporting documents in the same file.
 - Include invoice pages first followed by supporting documentation.
 - Be clearly printed/scanned at 300 dpi or more in black and white and without dark backgrounds behind the text.
 - Be in PDF or TIF format. All other file extensions will be rejected.
 - Have a name of 50 characters or less.
 - Not include viruses.
2. Total email size must be less than 20MB - This limit includes all attachments and headers. It is normal for a message you send to be larger by the time it arrives. We recommend keeping attachments to 18MB and less to keep under the limit.
3. The subject line and text content of email will not be systematically read and therefore will not be communicated to the bp business contact or approver.
4. Remove all letterhead or signature lines from the email that may result in an additional file from the email.

The email ingestion email address is unique to each business/country and is not monitored for correspondence and communications.

Please note that any invoice not complying with the above emailing requirements will not be processed and will not result in a communication back to you about this failure. If the invoice fails to be processed, you will need to resubmit a compliant invoice and the new due date will be calculated based on the new submission date.

Emailed invoices may receive an automated response regarding receipt of the document for processing, however, the invoice may later be rejected if it is not compliant with all the requirements in this document. If you do not receive rejection notifications, please log into the Supplier Portal <https://supplierportal.bp.com> to view and request a change to your company information.

Resubmitting Invoices:

If an invoice has been rejected previously, please correct the reason for rejection, ensure that the invoice meets the minimum invoice requirements detailed above. In addition:

- Do not consolidate previously submitted invoices.
- Do not change or add to the previous invoice number. (Do not add an "A" to the end of invoice reference numbers)
- Do include all supporting documentation.

What to avoid when submitting invoices:

- Do not submit an invoice that does not meet the minimum invoice requirements detailed above. Else, the Invoice will be rejected.
- Do not include any unauthorized charges - the bp purchase order or nonPO invoice reference pertains to a specific scope of work and should not be used for work that is outside of that agreed scope.
- Do not submit invoices which in aggregate exceed the value or quantity of the purchase order line being invoiced – if the value of the materials or work you are being asked to deliver exceeds the PO value please contact your bp business contact so that it can be increased appropriately.
- Do not submit an invoice or credit note which is not mathematically correct.
- Do not submit an invoice without appropriate supporting documentation.
- Do not hold onto credit notes, credits are to be issued to bp as soon as they are recognized.
- Do not submit duplicate or multiple copies of the same invoice. These duplicates can result in delay of all versions submitted.
- Do not consolidate previously submitted invoices when resubmitting.
- Do not submit invoice with bank details that do not match with bp records.
- Do not include any handwritten alterations within the invoice details
- Do not submit pro-forma invoices or statement of accounts
- Do not submit an invoice without a valid bp PO number or nonPO reference (bp representative email)

Invoice payments:

Payment of an invoice depends on the payment terms we have agreed to with you, the date when a valid invoice is received, and the accuracy and completeness of the invoice you submit.

bp will reject non-compliant invoices, provide reasons for rejection and request the Supplier to resubmit a revised invoice. If an invoice is rejected, the payment terms will not begin until a corrected invoice has been resubmitted and received by bp.

In order to check that your invoice has been successfully received and processed by bp, please log log into the Supplier Portal <https://supplierportal.bp.com> to view to check invoice status. Note: if you are a new user, you will need to register for an account.
