Notes

- Ask the questions on the card. Get everyone on the jobsite engaged in the conversation.
- Pick a value/behavior and ask what that means to an individual on the job site.
- Highlight barriers and procedures relevant to the day's tasks.
- Call on individuals to discuss aspects of the ATW in detail. What are the mitigations they will personally use? Vary people and risk discussion from one day to the next to keep conversation fresh. Convey that it takes courage to speak up BEFORE something goes wrong; be proactive.
- Remind them to remain focused on the task. If distractions are present, pause from the task. Think through the risks. Plan the course of action and then proceed with the work. WYE?
- Have the courage to Stop the Job! Name the individual person you will report a stop work to today. Discuss the process. It's not enough to tell your buddy, you must engage the jobsite leaders so an appropriate conversation can be held.
